

National Museum of the Marine Corps'

Colonial Era Trunk Program

Bring History into your classroom with the Museum's Travelling Trunk Program!

When we visit your school, students will learn about:

- everyday life in the past and how to recognize that things change over time through the use of primary sources.
- the importance of good citizenship and the basic principles that form our government through age-appropriate, hands on activities.
- the history of the United States through the important leaders whose contributions improved the lives of other Americans.

=====

- Programs are taught at your school by our Museum Education Staff and last approximately one hour.
- Programs are free of charge and appropriate for students in Kindergarten through Fifth grade.
