

A Museum Worthy of Corps Heritage

The mission of the Marine Corps Heritage Foundation is to tell the uniquely American story of the United States Marine Corps, a story of contribution and sacrifice, service and commitment...and to preserve forever the history and heritage of the world's premier fighting force.

Established in 1979, the Foundation is a private, non-profit 501(c)(3) organization that supports the historical programs of the Marine Corps through education, awards, publications, special projects and preservation. At the heart of the Foundation's mission is the National Museum of the Marine Corps and Heritage Center that is adjacent to Marine Corps Base Quantico, Virginia. The world-class Museum immerses visitors in the history of our Great Nation...as seen through the eyes of Marines.

The Museum houses an unparalleled display of icons of Marine history and irreplaceable artifacts. The finest museum technology and multimedia effects in our exhibitions create pivotal moments in history, like Marines bolting through the wheat fields and smoke at the Battle of Belleau Wood in 1918, the landing on Iwo Jima on D-Day in 1945, feeling the cold and hearing the Chinese advancing in the Chosin Reservoir in 1950, and the 1968 Khe Sanh siege during the Vietnam War. Visitors experience the intensity of boot camp...or can test their rifle skills with an M-16 at the Marine Corps virtual practice range...engulfing themselves in the sights and sounds of Marines in action.

The first 200 years of Marine Corps History come to life in the National Museum of the Marine Corps. Now we must complete this National tribute by adding the stories of Marines from 1976 through today.
