Marine Corps Leaders of World War II, Korea, and Vietnam

While visiting the Museum, fill in the blanks as you find the Marine Corps leaders identified below.

I. World War II Gallery: “Uncommon Valor”

Sergeant ________________________________ earned the Medal of Honor for valor during the Battle of Guadalcanal. He was later killed in fighting on Iwo Jima.

Major ________________________________ was a great Marine Corps pilot and leader of the famous “Black Sheep” squadron. He was awarded the Medal of Honor after being shot down and surviving brutal treatment at the hands of his Japanese captors.

Associated Press combat photographer ________________________________ took this famous photograph on February 23, 1945 during the Battle of Iwo Jima.

PFC (Private First Class) ________________________________ was one of the original 29 Navajo Code Talkers. The Code Talkers’ mission was to send and receive secret coded messages that the enemy could not understand.
II. Korean War Gallery: “Send in the Marines”

Second Lieutenant ___________________________ was the Marine Corps’ first African American aviator. He was also the first African American Marine promoted to the rank of general.

Captain _________________________________ flew 37 combat missions over Korea as a Marine aviator. He also served in the Marines during World War II and was a Hall of Fame baseball player for the Boston Red Sox.

III. Vietnam War Gallery: “In the Air, on Land, and Sea”

Lieutenant Colonel ________________________ died in a helicopter crash while extracting endangered Marines from the battlefield. Each year a trophy is awarded in his memory to the outstanding company commander in the Marine Corps.

Navy Lieutenant ___________________________ was a Catholic priest who earned the Medal of Honor in Vietnam. He was killed while shielding a wounded Marine from enemy fire.

First Lieutenant ___________________________ earned the Medal of Honor while serving as a company commander during Operation Dewey Canyon. He was wounded twice, yet continued to direct the actions of his Marines.